Will Be Signed By Roosevelt
On Tuesday Or
Wednesday Next Week

AIMS TO PROVIDE
MILLIONS OF JOBS

Tremendous Responsibility
Is Placed Upon President
By Measure

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—The administration's $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill, on which congress completed action yesterday, will be signed by the President upon his return from his Caribbean fishing trip Tuesday or Wednesday, it was stated at the White House today.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—President Roosevelt's signature on the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill was needed today to place the largest single appropriation in the history of the world at the disposal of the government for the purpose of ending the depression.

To Provide Work
The money will be spent primarily to take 3,500,000 heads of families off relief rolls by providing them jobs and to "end this business of the dole" by December. It should provide a million more jobs by stirring up industrial activity in thousands of lines, through government purchases of raw and finished materials for use on relief projects.

Tremendous responsibility was given the president for spending the huge fund. Only a few restrictions were thrown around his otherwise unlimited discretion. The most effective limitation was a ban on loans or gifts to states or their political subdivisions to be used in purchase of existing power plants or like projects.

The place of hearing has not been decided but it will likely be one of the court rooms in the Lawrence county court house.

Sessions will like be held on Friday and Saturday of each week and we will probably commence by calling officials of the present relief set-up. If possible we will have an attorney to conduct the examination, but who it will be I do not know. There will be no compensation attached to the work of examining the witnesses called. Car Skids
Young Berchold told police of the tragedy. He said:

"We were riding in my old Ford. It was one of the cars—oh, you know, just something to ride around in. We were all going to a dance at Hughes' tear room in Charleston. I had the old buggy hitting it up as much as it could go—which wasn't very fast."

"Then we skidded. The wheels plowed into the soft sand at the side of the road. The rear end swung around. There was a crash and I woke up with Nellie chaffing my wrists."

The wily trout is much put out, each jenny lad and lass, for soon they'll both be on the hook every week ends pass. For soon the season will be in when fishermen can scout the brooks for miles and miles around in search of speckled trout. But me I am no fisherman. I buy mine in the store, and so I have no tales to tell of two foot fish and more. I can't relate those jenny yarns about my catch but say, my appetite for fish is keen, its fifty-five today.

Established a free city under a league protection by the treaty of Versailles as an outlet to the sea, Danzig will go to the polls tomorrow for the sixth regular election of the lower house of its parliament.

Different Election
This election, however, will be different than all the others: in tomorrow's balloting the Hitler Reich will be in the background making a concrete bid to cement its old bond with Danzig.

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Reich minister of propaganda and ace spell binder of national socialism, was scheduled to take the platform today and pick up the campaign as left by Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Prussian premier and Reich air minister, and Rudolf Hess, Deputy leader of the Nazi party and spokesman for Reichs-leader Adolf Hitler himself.

Fellow Rotarian:
Monday, May 6 will be election day.

On the program for Monday is one of the most interesting subjects to be discussed before our club, Prof. C. W. McKee, head of Economics, Department of Westminster College will speak on, "Holding Companies and an Analysis of the Reburn Bill."

If you have holding company stock you have an idea of what they are and if you work for a holding company you have a different idea and if you are just plain John Citizen, you very likely have an idea that does not coincide with either of the other ideas and probably is unprintable. Come and get an idea from a brilliant man.

Huey Long Will Run For President

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Huey P. Long (D), Louisiana "Kingfish," today was an avowed candidate for president of the United States, presumably on a third party ticket.

The "Kingfish" decided to make the race when reports to him from 40 states, he said, revealed his candidacy would be welcomed by large numbers of voters. He has become convinced he has a chance to win the presidency so long as the Roosevelt "new deal" fails to restore prosperity.

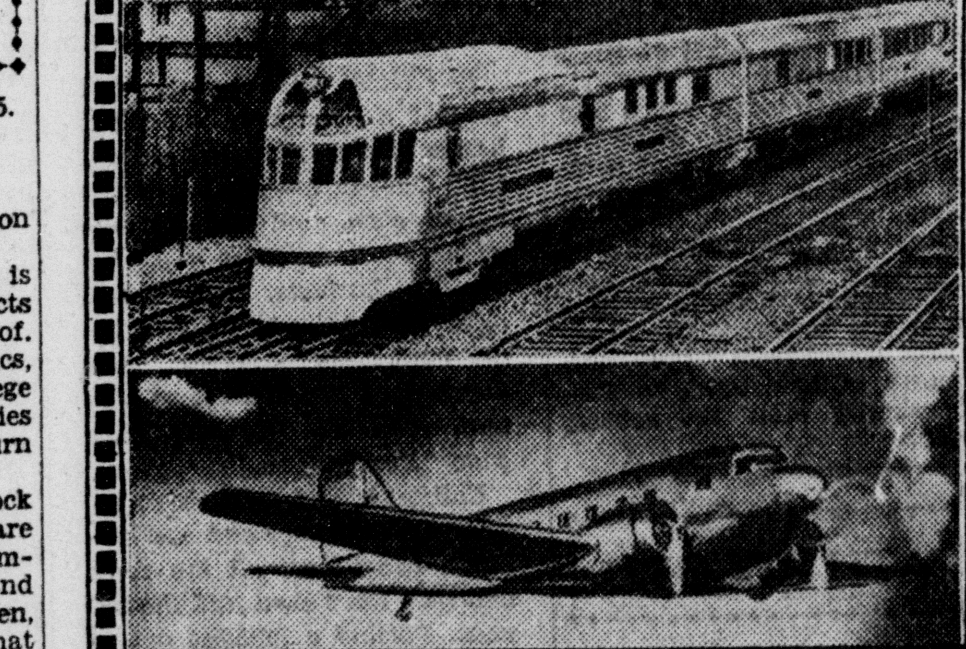

Long will not declare himself a candidate on a third party ticket until he is forced to abandon hope of winning the Democratic nomination.

SOUTHERN OULAW RAY HAMILTON IS CAUGHT AT DALLAS

night and Hamilton walked into the trap. Hamilton and the other prisoners were manacled and placed in automobiles which sped them here to the jail.

Borrow Lieutenant

Capture of the widely-hunted outlaw, former lieutenant of the late desperado Clyde Barrow, ended a wild career of bank robberies, shootings and kidnappings in which Hamilton narrowly eluded capture a dozen or more times in the several months he was at liberty.

His most recent escapade took Hamilton and several accomplices on a whirlwind tour of terror through southern Mississippi in which seven persons were kidnapped after he and four companions robbed the Prentiss, Miss., bank of $1,100.

The desperado, when hustled into the jail here last night, attempted a display of nonchalance that quickly faded when he was locked in a cell. He shook hands and joked feebly with a few officers and reporters in the jail corridor and then lapsed into sullen silence.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Relatives were at a loss today to furnish police with a motive for the suicide of Edward Wey, 16-year-old high school pupil. The boy, after telling his father that "I'll be dead tomorrow," leaped from a second-floor bedroom window of his home and was instantly killed.
In the room a note was discovered entitled "last will and testament of Edward Wey, the note read: "I leave my stamps to my brother Willie and my chemicals to Joe Kordeka."

When a man begins to put on a bit of flesh but still insists that he eats very little—hardly enough to keep a bird alive—nobody believes him. . . He doesn't even believe himself.

Before going to bed each night I lift the cat that sleeps before the fireplace, carry him to the door that opens to the basement and dump him for the night. . . He turns on the top step and gives me the most disgusted look any creature ever gave another. I tell him it is very bad to go to sleep with hatred in your heart, but every night I get that dirty look.

I have read many success stories and some of them sounded true, but the most comforting one is Charles M. Schwab's—even though he wasn't telling the truth. . . He said his success was mostly luck.

Three centuries ago a poet, Lord Greville, wrote: "I have often thought that the nature of women was inferior to that of men in general, but superior in particular." . . . Such nonsense! And yet many men will agree with that today, believing that individual women may be superior to all men, but that the sex is inferior.

TAKE YOUR TEMPER IN HAND BEFORE YOUR TEMPER TAKES YOU

You are prone to attribute your outbursts of temper to your nerves. If you are in such a nervous state that you do foolish and serious things, you should realize that you must take better hold of yourself.

You must conquer your nervous impulses before it is too late. Very likely you don't want to expend your self-control.

But frequent disturbances due to anger are harmful to the system. The physical effects are felt in nervous indigestion and in the thousand and one things that undermine health.

This is especially true in middle life and later.

It is not often that the quick-tempered person permits himself to go beyond bounds when he knows by so doing he is likely to sustain physical injury and pain.

If a quick tempered person can control himself once, he can do so again.

It is important to have the disposition to master this highly injurious state of mind and not let it get the upper hand.

It is cowardly to display temper toward those who cannot defend themselves, especially among women and children.

Begin today to get hold of your temper.

FATHERLY ADVICE

A highly successful business man, finding himself alone with his son one evening, decided to give him some fatherly advice.

"There are two things, son," the father said, impressively, "that are vitally necessary if you are to succeed in business."

"What are they, dad?"

"Honesty and sagacity."

"How do you define honesty?"

"Always—no matter what happens or how adversely it may affect you—always keep your word once you have given it."

"And sagacity?"

"Never give your word."

Emphatically, no.

The big question in the country right now is the problem of getting relief from the relief situation. The dolt seems to be an established institution in spite of the figures which seem to chart business progress.

Back in the old days we used to raise and sell onion sets for five cents for a big quart. We see them quoted now at 20 cents a pound. The reason for that is not so many people are willing to make a living at five cents a quart for onion sets.

So far we have not heard if the peach crop got it in the neck by the freeze last winter. There were no peaches around these parts last summer so a good crop this year will be quite enthusiastically received.

Another thing brings our thoughts back to the old days and that is seeing good potatoes sold at 25 cents a bushel. There were no good potatoes around these parts last summer so a good crop this year will be quite enthusiastically received.

A woman down at Guthrie, Okla., was arrested for begging from motorists. She told the judge she went on the principle that all men are "suckers." The judge sent her to jail and now she's on a hunger strike. She says "It's a principle with me that all men are suckers and I'm fighting for it." Wonder if the jailer will give in?

COMPRESSED SMOKE
A fire broke out in the basement of a seven-story building about 4 o'clock in the morning, but the night watchman, who was asleep on the top floor, did not awaken until the blaze had gained considerable headway. Panic-stricken and confused by the smoke which poured up from below he didn't think to use the fire escape, but rushed to the elevator and set the controls for full speed downward. And incidentally it was Paul E. Forsythe of Denver, Colo., who vouches for the utter truthfulness of this tale.

Between the second and third floors the elevator stopped, and being asked what would give them the greatest pleasure to see, they agreed that an hour spent in the public library would be a treat to them. So the hostess took them to the Boston public library, where they walked around and saw the mural painting by Abbey and Sargent. But all the time the woman-guest asked impatiently: "When shall we see the end of a corridor they came to the spot where, impressive on its marble pedestal, was the bust of the great American divine, Theodore Parker. And at once an ecstatic voice exclaimed—Look, father, Parker of Parker-House rolls!"

But there is still a demand for a car that won't scrape the bumps, crack your head or do more than 50.

When George Sheeler cranked his car in a Connecticut city he forgot he had left it in reverse. It started, backed safely down the street for 300 feet and then plunged into the side of a house. It shoved a piano clear across the room and broke much furniture.

About 23,375,000 people are now on relief in this country—one person out of every five. This is an increase of 77 per cent over a year ago. We are on our way, comrades!

Small business concerns are doomed. They can't afford lawyers slick enough to dodge taxes.

One great evil in this country is that the taxpayers are kept in ignorance of the expenses of office holders. There would be a heluva row if people knew the things they pay for and never hear of. There is plenty of publicity about things that are not good for the taxpayer. You notice every bank prints a statement every few months.

Clarence Darrow, the great criminal lawyer, of Chicago, tells this one: "You can tell who a dog's owner is by the characteristics of the dog. I went hunting once with three bird dogs, one a merchant's, one a banker's and one a farmer's dog. The merchant's dog got right down to business and sighted the bird each time so I could shoot. The banker's dog then ran ahead and devoured it. But the farmer's dog just sat back on its haunches and howled."

fore the watchman could locate the trouble he was overcome by the smoke.

In the meantime the passing driver of a milk wagon had seen the smoke and sent in a fire alarm. The fire engines sped to the scene had soon had the blaze under control. While cleaning up some of the debris the unconscious watchman was discovered and on being taken into the fresh air and given first aid, he recovered.

His first question to the hose-wielders concerned the sudden stoppage of the elevator. By way of explanation they pointed to their comrades who were carrying large gray blocks of compressed smoke out of the building and stacking them near the alley. They added that the descent of the elevator at such high speed had prevented the smoke's escaping from the shaft quickly enough, so that it became compressed from the basement to the ceiling of the second floor and kept the elevator from moving farther.

An old farmer, driving down the alley saw the smoke pile, got out of his wagon and sniffed it very carefully. He then approached the own-ers of the hardware store which had burned and asked if he could buy the smoke block. The merchant, thinking he had a sucker, sold the pile for $1.50; the farmer loaded his purchase into his wagon and drove out of town with gray smoke trailing behind.

As it happened the fire had been confined to the basement of the store, just where a large store of ax, shovel and hammer handles were kept. It was the peculiar odor of the smoke which had come from the burnt hickory handles that the farmer detected.

Far from getting a bad bargain the canny farmer sold the blocks to his neighbors who were at that time in the midst of their spring butchering, and were only too glad to buy choice hickory smoke in solid form for their smokers, and he spared the bother of keeping fires for two or three weeks.

George On Monopolies.
Would Have Taxed Land Only.
Man Made Wrongs.

(This is the fourth and last column devoted to an analysis of the writings of Henry George, great American philosopher-economist, as applied to present-day problems.)

NEW YORK, April 6.—The weakness of the NRA lies in its creation and protection of monopolies. Its strength lies in certain elements of it that shorten the hours of labor and bar child labor.

Critics of NRA, however, assert that the monopolistic features are too dangerous to be assuaged by the benefits of the other features.

Critics of monopolies, and other problems of the day, are referring to Henry George, noted American economic writer of more than half a century ago.

And the writer of this column has been making a re-analysis of the Henry George works. They seem to touch the problems of today as clearly-sighted as the problems of the post-Civil War period.

GEORGE ON MONOPOLY

Henry George wrote this on monopoly in "Social Problems," 52 years ago:

"I am not denouncing the rich, nor seeking, by speaking of these things, to excite envy and hatred. But if we would get a clear understanding of social problems, we must recognize the fact that it is due to monopolies which we permit and create, to advantages which we give one man over another, to methods of extortion sanctioned by law and public opinion, that some men are enabled to get so enormously rich while others remain so miserably poor."

"If we look around us and note the elements of monopoly, extortion and spoliation which go to the building up of all, or nearly all, fortunes, we see on the one hand how disingenuous are those who preach to us that there is nothing wrong in social relations and that the inequalities in the distribution of wealth spring from the inequalities of human nature."

"On the other hand, we see how wild are those who talk as though capital were a public enemy, and propose plans for arbitrarily restricting the acquisition of wealth. Capital is good; the capitalist is a helper, if he is not also a monopolist. We can safely let any one get as rich as he can if he will not despoil others in doing so."

MAN-MADE WRONGS

Henry George added: "There are deep wrongs in the present constitution of society, but they are not wrongs inherent in the constitution of man nor in those social laws which are as truly the

SPRING AND CITY STREETS

When the leaf comes back to the bough
And the blue comes back to the sky;
When the furrow turns to the plow,
A longing comes into my eye—
A longing to up and away
From the cold gray walls of the street.

And the ledger accounts of the day
Where the grass is soft to the feet,
Nor time nor the hatching of care,
Nor the mustiness of tasks to be done
Can crush the desire to be where
The earth bares her breast to the sun;

Where nothing of brick and cement
Has sealed in a ribbon-like comb
The countless delights that were meant
To brighten man's pathway with bloom.

I walk through the city and think
With the sun shining warm overhead
Of the petals of purple and pink
Which under the pavements lie dead.

Man has stifled the warm earth
With stone
And has shut out the sun and the rain,
And never those roadways will own
The buttercup's glory again.

When the leaf comes back to the bough
And the spring of the year is at hand,
I've yearning to wander somehow,
To the feel and the charm of the land;

To see daisies reach up to the sky
As if singing an anthem of joy
Which the streets of the city deny
And the makers of cities destroy.

SEE BIG TOURIST TRAVEL FOR STATE

MOTOR travel through Pennsylvania this spring and summer will be heavier than any year since 1929, a survey by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, AAA, reveals. The state motoring body estimates that $200,000,000 will be spent by tourists in Pennsylvania during 1935.

Many indications point to a further gain in the travel industry, which showed phenomenal recovery during the past year, reaching the highest level since the start of the depression, the federation said. Among the favorable signs cited are:

That winter travel to the south, always a barometer for the following spring and summer, was heavier this year than at any time since the peak of the Florida boom in 1925.

That inquiries to motor clubs regarding vacation trips are more numerous than in the same period of any year since the depression.

That increased car sales and production will result in additional travel this year.

That hotel rates and general travel costs are still moderate.

That summer resorts are anticipating record-breaking business this year.

Through the State Department of Highways, motor clubs and other agencies an extensive "See Pennsylvania" campaign will be conducted this year. "Pennsylvania has much to offer the vacationist, and it is planned to bring its many attractions before the motorist. This state is readily accessible to the tourist from every section of the United States and Canada, and its thousands of miles of new rural roads have opened territories that previously were almost inaccessible.

Plans are now being mapped out to call attention of Pennsylvanians, as well as people from other states, to the many attractions of the Keystone state, and this is expected to be reflected in increased motor travel."

BETTER TIMES FOR STEEL

Myron C. Taylor, whose predictions at the annual meetings of the U. S. Steel Corporation have all been substantiated by the course of business the following year, told his stockholders when they gathered again this week that our way is not deeper into the depression, but forward and out of it.

Two years ago James Truslow Adams remarked that we were nowhere near the end of the depression, because such periods in the past had all been marked by the appearance of hordes of quacks and demagogues. Judged by this standard we are now well on our way out. With the disappearance of the quack notions with which the country is now filled, the chairman of the Steel Corporation said, "the real America, in its simple, straightforward way, will again lead to world progress."

Mr. Taylor had an answer to the prophets of gloom who have been predicting the decline of the steel industry. Steel production in the United States, which dropped to a low of 151 pounds per capita in 1932, he said, rose to 378 pounds in 1934. When business picks up Mr. Taylor predicted that we should again reach a steel production of 800 to 900 pounds per capita. "Our country is still young," he added, "rich in natural resources, has a low density of population, and still presents plenty of opportunities even along pioneering lines."

All this, coming from one of the hardest headed men in the country, should help, as Mr. Taylor intended, to "dispel the clouds which the depression has brought forth."

THE OLD LADY OF THE ATLANTIC

No steamship had a more remarkable career than the Mauretania, which is now, after twenty-eight years of service, to go to the scrapheap. Her sister, the Lusitania, gained a tragic prominence during the first year of the World War. But the Mauretania escaped a German torpedo to wear with pride the blue ribbon of the Atlantic for twenty-two years. Even after the Bremen had taken this token away from her, she made one voyage in only seven minutes' longer time than her rival. Now she is to be merely a memory to the many who crossed in her, as those earlier holders of records, like the Etruria and Campania, were in their day.

Only lovers of the sea can appreciate the affection a ship arouses. She seems a living creature, even though steam has supplanted sail. "The liner is a lady," as Kipling wrote, and there was a peculiar appropriateness in calling the Mauretania the Old Lady of the Atlantic. She was modeled more finely than many of the huge steamships, with long, sweeping lines and a sharp bow that made one think of her as a great yacht. True, she had become somewhat outmoded with the passage of the years. But she kept to the last the charm a lady should have, and there will be keen to regret at her passing.

NON-VOTING CITIZENS

How eligible voters who fail to go to the polls could control elections if they all should ever decide to cast their ballots is illustrated by some figures recently compiled, from which the following facts are taken. In the presidential election of 1932 only 58 per cent of the population of the United States over 21 years of age voted. In the "off-year" election last November only about 41 per cent of the potential voters went to the polls.

It may be fairly assumed, however, that the percentage of eligible voters who failed to exercise their right to franchise was about the same in both parties, so that if every potential voter had voted the result might have been practically what it was in each instance.

It is one of the paradoxes of a democracy that citizens who would fight for the right to vote, if the privilege were denied them, will refuse or neglect to exercise that right when they have the opportunity.

Ellport Board Will Move Schools

Old Burnstown School Will Be Torn Down And Lumber Used In New Structure

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—When members of the Ellport board of school convened in regular session last evening at the Bend schoolhouse, they definitely decided to move the one-room building near Burnstown to a new location near the Bend schoolhouse.

The old two-story Burnstown building will be torn down and a room will be built from the lumber to join the other one-roomed building.

J. C. Syling, county superintendent, was present at the meeting and he will endeavor to have the plans approved by the state board within a few days.

Bids for moving the buildings and the foundation erection were opened last evening but the contract will not be given out at present because very little of the work can be done until the close of the present term of school.

The board has desired to make this change in the building for the past two years but all attempts to secure federal aid under the CWA, RWD, etc., were futile.

Other routine matters were transacted. The health officer, Hugh Rough reported that there is a very large number of cases of contagious diseases, including chicken pox, measles and whooping cough, in the borough.

Fine Lecture Is Given On Friday By Dr. Halley

"Isaiah" Is Topic Of Sermon; Services To Be Held This Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—Last evening a large crowd heard the lecture on "Isaiah." Dr. Halley prefaced this with some suggestions on reading the Bible. He thinks this should be done regularly, going through the book once a year. Not a campaign of reading but a steady habit is the thing required. Habits, not campaigns are the greatest need of the church today. He gave a general explanation of the plan of the Old Testament, especially the prophetic book. Learn the names of the books and a word about each book was his advice. The prophets were trying to shake the nation loose from idolatry and in event of failure to do this, to warn them of the outcome. Their words have a modern ring about them. All were thrilled to listen to three rhapsodies from the pen of Isaiah the prophet. Dr. Halley called them the Rhapsody on the People of God, the Rhapsody on the City of God and a third rhapsody upon that most interesting of all subjects "Who Is God?" Nowhere else in scientific, philosophical or religious writings do we find the unfolding of the whole as we find them in the prophet Isaiah.

The choir under the direction of Rev. Bernie Osterhouse sang three beautiful numbers. Rev. J. E. Caughey was chairman of the meeting. On Sabbath evening Dr. Halley will recite the "Story of the Crucifixion the Holy of Holies of the Bible." The meetings will continue all next week.

Because of the great interest in the Halley Bible Recitals it has been decided to hold a meeting this evening (Saturday) at 7:45 in the United Presbyterian church. This is a union service of all the churches of the city which Dr. Halley has been conducting this past week. He will give a synopsis of one of the most important books of the Old Testament "Jeremiah." Dr. Halley has committed a large portion of this book and has been asked in many towns to repeat this lecture.

Comedy At Union Entertains Crowd

'A Pair Of Sixes' Presented
By Little Theatre Club
In School Hall

"A Pair of Sixes" was the delightful three-act comedy presented last night at the Union high school auditorium by the members of the Little Theatre club of Union high school. The proceeds of the play will be used to further improve the new athletic field at Union high. The play was written by Edward Peple. The show was staged under the auspices of the High School Athletic association, with Milton A. Pattison the director and doing a mighty fine job. The cast was letter perfect, showing the careful directing that they had received. Coach David Morgan Boyd stepping out of his coaching sphere long enough to act as stage manager and a husky scene shifter he was, but Boyd got them shifted.

Very Fine Show.
Bill King, as George B. Nettleton, and Alice Reed as Mrs. Nettleton, portrayed their parts in a very fine manner, lending dignity to the roles. Frank McGraw as T. Boggs Johns and Dorothy Smith as Florence Cole had the heavy scenes and took them with grace and skill that speaks well for their ability on the stage. Ina Mae Coates had the role of Miss Sally Parker and did very well, as did Rod Edwards as Vanderhott, the butler.

The comedy was enjoyed by a large audience, there were few dull moments. In the cast were two freshmen, four sophomores and one junior.

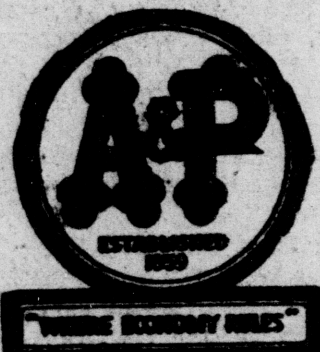

Prior to the start of the show the Union high orchestra under the direction of Robert Duff played several fine selections. Between the acts Chester Gierlach gave a cornet solo and William Harry played a tuba solo.

W. L. Burkhardt was the business manager of the play and Jay G. Rudolph was chairman of the ushers. The ticket committee consisted of Robert Elmore, Robert Bentley and Howard Cochran. The ushers were Ray Coates, William McCune, Walter Heckart, William Cumberland, James Logue and Fred Hughes.

Former Local Man, Now Pilot, Chats With First Lady

An informal chat with the nation's first lady, Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, was the unexpected pleasure that came to a former New Castle youth recently as he went about his duties as co-pilot of a luxurious plane of the Eastern Air Lines between Washington and New York.

The young man, Lieut. James W. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Williams, Hillsville, and nephew of Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Shaffer of Euclid avenue, is now flying between New York and Miami. Photos of him chatting with Mrs. Roosevelt were carried by many papers.

P. T. A. Concert Thrills Audience

Senior High Concert Groups,
Outside Artists Score
In Program

Student musicians of the senior high school and distinguished artists from outside thrilled the audience of music lovers that heard last night's concert which the New Castle Parent-Teacher association sponsored in the senior high auditorium.

Performing during the greater part of the evening were the concert band and orchestra and ensemble groups of the high school which will represent New Castle in the sectional contest of northwestern Pennsylvania high school musicians here on April 12 and 13, but at intervals the singing of outside artists was heard.

Featuring the well-arranged program were the numbers sung by Robert Johns, member of the choir of Pittsburgh's First Presbyterian church, brought here by Councilman D. O. Davies, a close friend. Mr. Johns, noted baritone, sang at his best and received heavy applause at the close of his numbers.

Other vocal numbers which won the audience's favor were sung by two New Castle singers, Miss Hazel Campbell and James Bowman, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Kathryn Nessel Allen.

Directing the school musicians in most of their numbers was Prof. J. F. Replogle, supervisor of instrumental music at senior high and leading director in the sectional meet which comes here next week. The musicians' numbers last night comprised their specified contest numbers.

Mrs. C. R. Brenner, representing Mrs. Chauncey Davis, president of the city's P. T. A., introduced last night's program and near the close Mr. Replogle, speaking briefly, thanked the P. T. A. chapters for their splendid support. Proceeds of the concert will go to help finance expenses of next week's contest.

Mrs. Davis was chairman of the concert arrangements, assisted by Mrs. R. C. Aiken, vice chairman. Mrs. W. E. Gross and Mrs. Herman Gibson also served as committee aides. Each of the ladies represented the participating chapters of the association.

Why Must They Fight?
One Jumped, One Stayed.
France Has Gold.
The Ministers' Union.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

FRANCE REQUESTS Italy and England to enter a triple alliance, with all three pledged to fight together, if one should be attacked. This means if "one" should be attacked by Germany. The British will probably postpone any "three power" treaty as long as possible. That England has not forgotten the last war is proved by young British college men voting never again to fight king and country. You would think that Germany, also would have enough of war for a while, with practically every large family minus one son at least, excepting the Kaiser's family.

AUSTRIA adds to the size of her army. After the last war, she was carved to look like a man with both arms and legs cut off, but she is ready for more. Poland refuses to agree to the "eastern pact." Germany seems anxious for another war now.

To realize how things are in Europe, imagine the United States with Missouri increasing her army, preparing for war with Kansas, California threatening to bombard Seattle, Pennsylvania and New York State sitting in trenches, bombing each other's cities, trying to make military alliances with Texas and Florida.

Is there any reason why this country should mix in wars based on European hatreds?

A BOND trader from New York, aged 40, went to Boston with a young lady, 28, to die by suicide. No need to publish their names all over the country.

He jumped to death from a twelve story hotel window, in accordance with their agreement.

She looked over the window sill, saw how far it was, fell on the floor and was found in hysterics.

She said: "I just could not make up my mind."

Contemplating the bond dealer's body in the morgue, she cried: "Oh, Harry! Why didn't you wait?"

Can you imagine the surprise of the bond dealer when he awoke, looking around after death and found no lady with him.

If ghosts can sing, he might sing the old Italian song:

"Woman is changeable,
Like a feather in the wind."

INHABITANTS of this world's richest country, read with interest that coins will again be used in France, to prove that gold is a reality, and France is on the gold basis.

One hundred franc pieces, worth about six dollars, will be the biggest gold pieces.

The French and the Prince of Monaco used to make gold pieces of 100 real francs worth about twenty dollars each, and called "plaques." In the Monte Carlo gambling rooms, they were convenient for piling up, like chips, on the red, black odd, even, passe, manque, or your chosen number.

Well disciplined American citizens wonder what makes them unfit to have any gold. The French can have it, Uncle Sam sells gold to Mexico. Some that had all their gold taken from them, just before it increased seventy-five per cent in value, are wondering why, with peculiar intensity.

THE AMERICAN "Ministers' Union," not exactly a labor union, no walking delegates, but a "union of clergymen, now requested all regular religious denominations to establish a central fund to guarantee adequate salaries for all regularly ordained ministers," a most reasonable request. "The laborer is worthy of his hire."

The idea would be to establish twenty-five hundred dollars a year as a "basic minimum" salary; little enough, too little. If a clergyman saved only one soul each year, he would earn more than that. How much would you pay to escape one thousand billion quadrillion years of "fire and brimstone?"

Many clergymen, unfortunately, are paid much less than $2,500 a year, miserably underpaid.

ORDINARILY a deserted human baby is worth exactly nothing, nobody wants it. But one small baby, name unknown, deserted by his mother in New York, taken by police to the founding asylum as a matter of routine, would be much in demand if it were known that a sweepstakes ticket that drew a horse and may win $30,000 was found in his clothing.

A deserted baby with only a cunning face and an immortal soul is one thing. The same baby with a $300,000 sweepstakes ticket in his clothing is something quite different.

IN RUSSIA women are trained to fight, to handle guns, fly and do battle in airplanes. When war comes, as it doubtless will more than once before real civilization arrives, Russian and other women will dispose of the old argument "women ought not to vote because they do not fight in war time."

In Moscow, Vera Fedoroffa, wife of a Red army officer, jumped from a parachute, without oxygen apparatus, more than twenty thousand feet. A Russian lady like that might worry "gentlemen fighters."

Picard Astounds Golfing Experts With Fine Form

Leads In Augusta National With Grand Total Of 135 For Two-Days Of Play

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service
Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6.—Nine strokes under a tough par 144 at 36 holes—four strokes ahead of the nearest pursuer.

Alone, like the Roman warrior at the bridge, that amazing bon-bon bombardier from Hershey, Pa., Henry Picard, stood far out in front today at the half-way mark in the Master's golf championship.

Good Money Player
The Augusta National that Bobby Jones designed as the ultimate test of championship golf is a shambles, blasted asunder by the seige guns of a 29-year-old golfer who, though the top money winner of the winter golf circuit, never before has won a major crown.

Picard set the course afire Thursday with a five-under-par 67. The gallery said "he'll crack—nobody can keep that pace up on the Augusta National." Quite casually, Picard Friday turned in a card of 68.

Sarazen-Mangrum Second
Today there are just two in second position—Sarazen and Mangrum, clinging tenaciously—but four strokes away at 139. Goggin is back in fifth at 142, with Walter Hagen, of Detroit, and Paul Runyan, of White Plains.

Picard ironed out the course with five birdies. He clipped a stroke from par going out for 35, then topped off three more strokes on the back nine for a 33.

Picard hasn't yet won this tournament. Anything might happen in the next 36 holes. The role of pace-maker has broken many a heart. But if he can keep up the speed of his first two rounds it's his, indubitably, in a breeze, and he's "hot."

Can Not Falter
One bad round and Picard is probably a goner. Sarazen is shooting a splendid, consistent game. His first round gave him 68. Yesterday's play saw him shoot 71, still under par. He is five under par for the two circuits. Mangrum also shot a sub-par 71, to add to his first day's 68.

Olin Dutra, the National Open champion, and Jimmy Hines, of New York are in easy reaching distance at 140 if Picard falters. Craig Wood, of Deal, N. J., another sharpshooter, is in fourth place at 141. Despite Picard's nine under par, it remained for Bobby Jones to provide the thrill of the tournament to date. Time now customarily will ever dim or stale the magic attraction of the retired grand slam king.

Three Under Par
He streaked under the first nine of the second round yesterday in 33, three strokes under par. For the moment the trouble that beset his general Master's tournament last spring, and which still persisted Thursday, suddenly lifted. He was sinking long putts. One a 40-footer, with the ease and grace of his best years, and his approaches were speeding to the pin with deadly accuracy.

But trouble lurked in the poisonous back nine and Bobby's incoming score soared to 39. His 33, however, enabled him to finish with par 72 and a 36-hole total of 146.

"Cort" McIntosh Will Have Charge At Castle Hills

President Of Professional Golfers' Association Will Come Here

Max Ludwig made the announcement today that "Cort" McIntosh, veteran golfer and pro of Erie, Pa., and the south, would have charge of Castle Hills course starting today. McIntosh will serve as pro and manager.

Mr. McIntosh is president of the Northwestern Pennsylvania and Western New York State Professional Golfers' association and one of the most popular golfers in the city of Erie, Pa., where he has held the Erie open championship three years straight. He was with the Erie Country club last year. The course is open for play, the entire 18 holes being put into shape.

Medica Greatest Swimmer In U.S.

Washington's Husky Torpedo Shows Heels To Best In U.S. In 200 Yard Free Style

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 6.—Any doubt that may have existed that Jack Medica, Washington husky torpedo, is the greatest swimmer in the world was completely dispelled today after the beautiful exhibition given by the coast star last night as he annexed the 220 yard free-style laurels in the National A. A. U. indoor championship at the New York A. C. pool.

Supposedly at his best in the distance swims, Medica came down to the furlong test, took on the best sprinters in the country, and left them all. Jim Gihula, John Macionis, Ralph Flanagan and the defending champion, Walter Spence, in his wake as he negotiated the eight and a fraction laps in the splendid time of 2:10.8.

Tonight he defends his 500 yard laurels, and it would be a hard bet for indeed who would wager on any of his rivals to stop his all conquering rush.

Soft Ball Notes

CROTON BUCS WIN
Croton Bucs soft ball team handed the fast Hickory team a 9 to 7 defeat at Croton field, with the Bucs hitting the ball hard. For games with the Croton Bucs call 2578-J and ask for Bill.

AUDIA FLASHES TEAM
Joseph "Flash" Audia will sponsor a team in the Italian soft ball league on the south side this summer. Audia has lined up a flock of soft ball stars. He expects to take the league championship. The Italian league will swing open on April 16.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Slippery Rock Girls Win Swimming Meet

(Special To The News)
SLIPPERY ROCK, April 6.—Slippery Rock State Teachers college has been proclaimed the winner of the national intercollegiate telegraphic swimming meet for women, eastern division, which was held in the middle of March.

The meet was sponsored by Penn Hall, which was the winner of the 1934 meet of the eastern division. The results of the southern, central and western divisions have not yet been obtained.

The results were compiled and submitted to the sponsor immediately after the meet. Although Slippery Rock did not win a single first place in any event, the contestants showed the most standardized levels of any of the entrants competing.

New Wilmington Quintet Defeats County All-Stars

Score Is 35 To 30 At East Brook High Floor, Lake-wood Titans Top Baptists

New Wilmington high school basketball team, County champions made it a grand slam last night at the East Brook High floor by defeating the All-Stars of the various County High schools 35-30.

The Lakewood Titans handed the First Baptist team a surprise upset 26 to 25 in the preliminary game. The East Brook high floor was packed to the doors for the unusual floor exhibition.

The games were played as benefits for the East Brook A. A. to promote athletics, and the East Brook A. A. members are grateful to the County All-Stars and New Wilmington high for the support.

Miner-Schaas Star
The game was nip and tuck all the way with the All-Stars holding a 17 to 12 lead at the end of the first half, and 24 to 18 at the end of the third period. The New Wilmington high team opened up in the final period with a fast attack, starting Russ Minner, McKean and Eagleson.

Schaas of Union high and Throop of Bessemer led the All-Stars in scoring with 15 of the points between them. Hortege and Stephenson had 10 of the points between them. Minner led the New Wilmington high team in scoring with 12 points. Hart and Eagleson had seven points apiece.

W. Rung Stars
In the preliminary game the Lakewood Titans featuring Willie Rung who made 10 of the points handed the First Baptists Sunday, school league champs a 26 to 25 upsetting.

"What A Man" Llewellyn had an off night making but five points, while "Stoogie" Ross had but four points. Adams and Wallace played good basketball for the losers. W. Rung and E. Kendall for the East Brook Lakewood.

Credit for the success of the venture goes to Louise "Pick" Gillich, Lou Harlan and Coach Emrick, of East Brook high who directed the All-Stars last night, also to the various members of the basketball team who helped to put East Brook on the basketball map.

"Y" Devil Dogs Give Old Timers Lesson On Floor

Youngsters Defeat Stars Of Other Years 33 To 26 In Great Exhibition

They say that age will tell, and it told a group of old time New Castle basketball stars last night at the "Y" more than that, as the "Y" Devil Dogs, 1935 champions, handed the over-sized old timers a 33 to 26 setback in as weird and interesting an exhibition of basketball as seen at the "Y" floor in many a day.

At the end of the first half the Old Timers were trailing 12 to 8 in the score and more than that for wind. For the first five minutes or so the Old Boys made it hot for the kids, but after that it was just a question of time.

Dave Hoskins Stars
"Davey" Hoskins, one of the better known guards of other years, was the highlight in the camp of the veterans, flipping in five field goals.

Sam Richards, another of the old time greats, jumped center and made six points. Fraser and Wheldon, considerably heavier than when they played basketball years ago, made one field goal apiece. Leon Drumm, twice as heavy as when he used to be known as a "bearcat" guard along with "Jewie" Coen, the game warden, were held scoreless.

Henry MacNichols, physical director of the "Y" turned traitor on the Old Timers and appeared with the youngsters, making four field goals. Henry Wetlich, at center, had nine points for the "Y" boys. It was just a lot of fun for the Old Timers, and at times they flashed basketball that was a kick-back to the days when basketball was basketball.

The game was handled in most excellent fashion by Michael "Jake Sent Me" Babovsky as referee, and he called them (strict), although not one of the Old Timers made a foul try, just didn't have the old eye working as Stan Wheldon put it.

Senators Seek Scalp of Wallace in Cotton Fight

A bipartisan drive to force Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace out of the cabinet has been launched in the senate by Senator Walter F. George of Georgia and Senator Jesse Metcalf of Rhode Island because of Wallace's cotton policies. George and Metcalf led the attack on the youthful cabinet member when he defended the cotton processing tax and warned that the levy might be increased instead of slashed. Both senators have demanded repeal of the processing tax. The move is being supported by other southern senators as well.

Culbertsons Lead By 14,660 Points In Bridge Match

Culbertsons Hold Healthy Lead
At End Of 88 Rubbers
Of Challenge Play

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 6.—The Culbertsons reached a new Pike's Peak today in their 150 rubber contract bridge battle with the Simses.

They lead by 14,660 points with 88 rubbers completed.

Their gain of 7,460 points in the last eight rubbers was indirectly attributed to the white rabbit which has joined the army of kibitzers.

"When 'Red Eye' first arrived it was thought he was a gift to the Culbertsons. But it later turned out that a friend had sent him to the Simses to do his stuff as mascot."

Bites Mrs. Simms
While masoching for Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson the latter lost a big gob of score. When he was turned over to the Simses he not only jinxed them down the scoring chute but took a nip out of Mrs. Simms herself.

P. Hal Sims said he might give "Red Eye" one more chance. If "Red Eye" fails he may become rabid, stew or deported to Oswald Jacoby and his team of the "Four Aces."

Neither Culbertson nor Sims are on bridge-speaking terms with the "Four Aces" who have scoffed at their claim to leading systems and challenged them to a foursome match for $10,000.

Graham was recently named president of the Akron Transportation company, Akron, O., and relinquished his general management of the New Castle Transportation system to devote his time more fully to his duties at Akron.

T. C. Moore is the local superintendent of the New Castle Street Electric Railway company.

FHA Activities To Be Suspended

Feuchtwanger Receives Order that All Employees On Relief Are Laid Off

Temporary suspension of FHA activities in New Castle was forced today, when Marcus Feuchtwanger, director for Lawrence county, received an order from the local relief office, ordering all investigators, typists, stenographers and timekeepers be taken off until further notice.

Inasmuch as the employees who have been working on the FHA project during the last three weeks have only been those on direct relief, it means that these employees must be placed back upon relief, and the survey of the city and county districts suspended until money has been allocated to complete the project by the federal-state relief organization.

JAIL PRISONERS GIVEN FEDERAL RELIEF CHECKS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., April 6.—Prisoners in jail here for sentences of 30 days or longer have been getting relief checks. This was the information which had been given today to a legislative committee investigating relief frauds in Washington and Greene counties.

David W. Creigh, warden of the Washington county jail, said that some inmates received as high as $45 a month at their home addresses. One prisoner, he said, had been given new shoes despite the fact he could walk very little while confined in a cell. The warden also pointed out the prisoners didn't need relief as the county fed 'em.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners passed a resolution yesterday to borrow $25,000 more for the poor fund, as there is only eight cents now in the treasury. This will bring the total borrowings up to $55,000 in the poor fund and $30,000 for the general fund.

Final account of John Myers executor in the estate of the late Martha Myers of Mahoning township, has been approved by the court. Total assets were $912.07; total credits, $665.24. Balance for distribution after filing costs, $244.33. Of this $226.89 goes to the John Myers estate, $8.72 to Clarice Murdock, and $8.72 Twila Murdock.

Under the will of the late Mary Elizabeth Simpson of this city deceased's property is left to her husband, William W. Simpson for life. At his death small bequests go to Mrs. Thomas Moore and Margaret Jane Brown and the balance to Rufus W. Simpson and Emma Brown, wife of Joseph A. Brown, share and share alike.

Under the will of the late Frank Bower, the proceeds of a $5,000 insurance policy goes to a sister, Elizabeth B. Sankey, and the remainder of the estate to a sister, Theresa M. Bower. Another sister, Lucy Henderson is named as executrix.

In addition to expenses at state hospitals and penal institutions the County of Lawrence pays out considerable money to local hospitals. Since January 1 of this year payments to the latter have been as follows: New Castle hospital, Jan. 18, $49.50; February 6, $1,185.50; March 4, $1,552; March 18, $1,645; March 18, $45, total $4,477. Janeson Memorial hospital, Jan. 20, $408; February 28, $641; March 7, $401.50; March 11, $20, total $1,470.50. Ellwood City hospital, January 4, $415; February 6, $370. There are also some other bills to pay as soon as the loan being negotiated by the county commissioners is secured. Bills at the hospitals are for emergency cases and cases of sickness which are sent to the different institutions through the welfare department.

County commissioners are finding that the repairs to plumbing and heating pipes at the county home are likely to be rather expensive owing to failure of the builders of the home to provide a practical means of getting at the pipes in case it became necessary to replace or repair them. The pipes were imbedded in the concrete floor. They have been rendered useless through electrolosis. In order to get at them the solid concrete floor must be chiseled out. The floor is almost as hard as flint and the operation is a tedious one. When the new pipes are installed they will be placed in a trench or conduit and openings will be left to get at them. If this had been done when the building was erected the present heavy expense would have been unnecessary.

The Mothers Assistance Board, which administers old age pensions, reports that investigations have been completed in nearly three hundred cases, in many of which the pensions are already being paid. The uncertainties of life have already made inroads on the pension list, some six or seven of those to whom pensions were granted, have died. This is an unusually large number, considering the brief period during which the pension law has been in operation. Members of the board have been doing all the checking on the applicants, for which they receive no compensation and which consumes considerable time. In many cases the investigators found that the applicants either had money in the bank, in property, or had children who were able to support them. The law does not contemplate the granting of pensions to persons who have means of their own or who have children who are able to support them. Many applications have also been sent in by persons who do not wish to be eligible. The age is seventy years, and there is no use sending in an application unless the applicant has arrived at the three score and ten figure.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. April 5, five arrests on charges as follows: drunkenness 1, violation of parking law 2, suspicion 1 and running through red light 1.

Property-owners who want thoroughfares paved with amiesite will be interested in a bill to be presented to council Monday. It provides for the paving of probably 18 streets. The paving will be done according to the foot front rule and an estimate of the cost for a 40 foot lot has been given as approximately $66.00. Indications are according to Solicitor White that the city will not pave in front of schoolhouses.

He says that the city has not sufficient funds to do so. Under the law the school board does not have to pay a paving assessment.

Someone called No. 8 Friday afternoon and asked to be connected with the Dog Catcher's department. The police sergeant explained that the dog catcher maintains his kennel at 258 West Falls street. The dog catcher is the most sought man in the city at the present time. Within the near future chickens will add to the woes of police owing to the numerous gardens being planted.

NAZIS HOPE FOR DANZIG VICTORY

Danzig Voters Ballot Sunday

Will Name Members Of Lower House Of Parliament In Election

REICH MINISTER MAKES CAMPAIGN

(International News Service)
DANZIG, April 6.—Looking upon tomorrow's parliamentary elections in the free city of Danzig as a "Saar plebiscite of the east," the highest leaders of the German Nazi party today launched a final whirlwind drive to establish Nazi rule over this league of nations ward.

Established a free city under a league protection by the treaty of Versailles as an outlet to the sea, Danzig will go to the polls tomorrow for the sixth regular election of the lower house of its parliament.

Different Election

This election, however, will be different than all the others: in tomorrow's balloting the Hitler Reich will be in the background making a concrete bid to cement its old bond with Danzig.

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Reich minister of propaganda and ace spell binder of national socialism, was scheduled to take the platform today and pick up the campaign as left by Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Prussian premier and Reich air minister, and Rudolph Hess, Deputy leader of the Nazi party and spokesman for Reich leader Adolf Hitler himself.

Jeroboam I was the first king of the Kingdom of Israel.

AGED HUSBAND SHOTS WIFE

Hurd, 64, is shown here as he told police that he shot his wife after she had allegedly tortured him in an attempt to make him disclose the hiding place of money she possessed. Left to right are Burt Martin, patrolman, who arrested Hurd; Hurd, who exhibited bruises he said were inflicted by his wife; Jack Brice, city detective, and Miss Bertha Hurd, 44 years old, foster daughter of Hurd. Hurd charged his foster daughter with aiding his wife when the latter allegedly tortured him by burning his feet.

The Castleton
12:15 to 1:00 P. M.

Fellow Rotarian:
Monday, May 6 will be election day.

On the program for Monday is one of the most interesting subjects to be discussed before our club. Prof. C. W. McKee, head of Economics, Department of Westminster College will speak on, "Holding Companies and an Analysis of the Reburn Bill."

If you have holding company stock you have an idea of what they are and if you work for a holding company you have a different idea and if you are just plain John Citizen, you very likely have an idea that does not coincide with either of the other ideas and probably is unprintable. Come and get an idea from a brilliant man.

Huey Long Will Run For President

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Huey P. Long (D), Louisiana "Kingfish," today was an avowed candidate for president of the United States, presumably on a third party ticket.

The "Kingfish" decided to make the race when reports to him from 40 states, he said, revealed his candidacy would be welcomed by large numbers of voters. He has become convinced he has a chance to win the presidency so long as the Roosevelt "new deal" fails to restore prosperity.

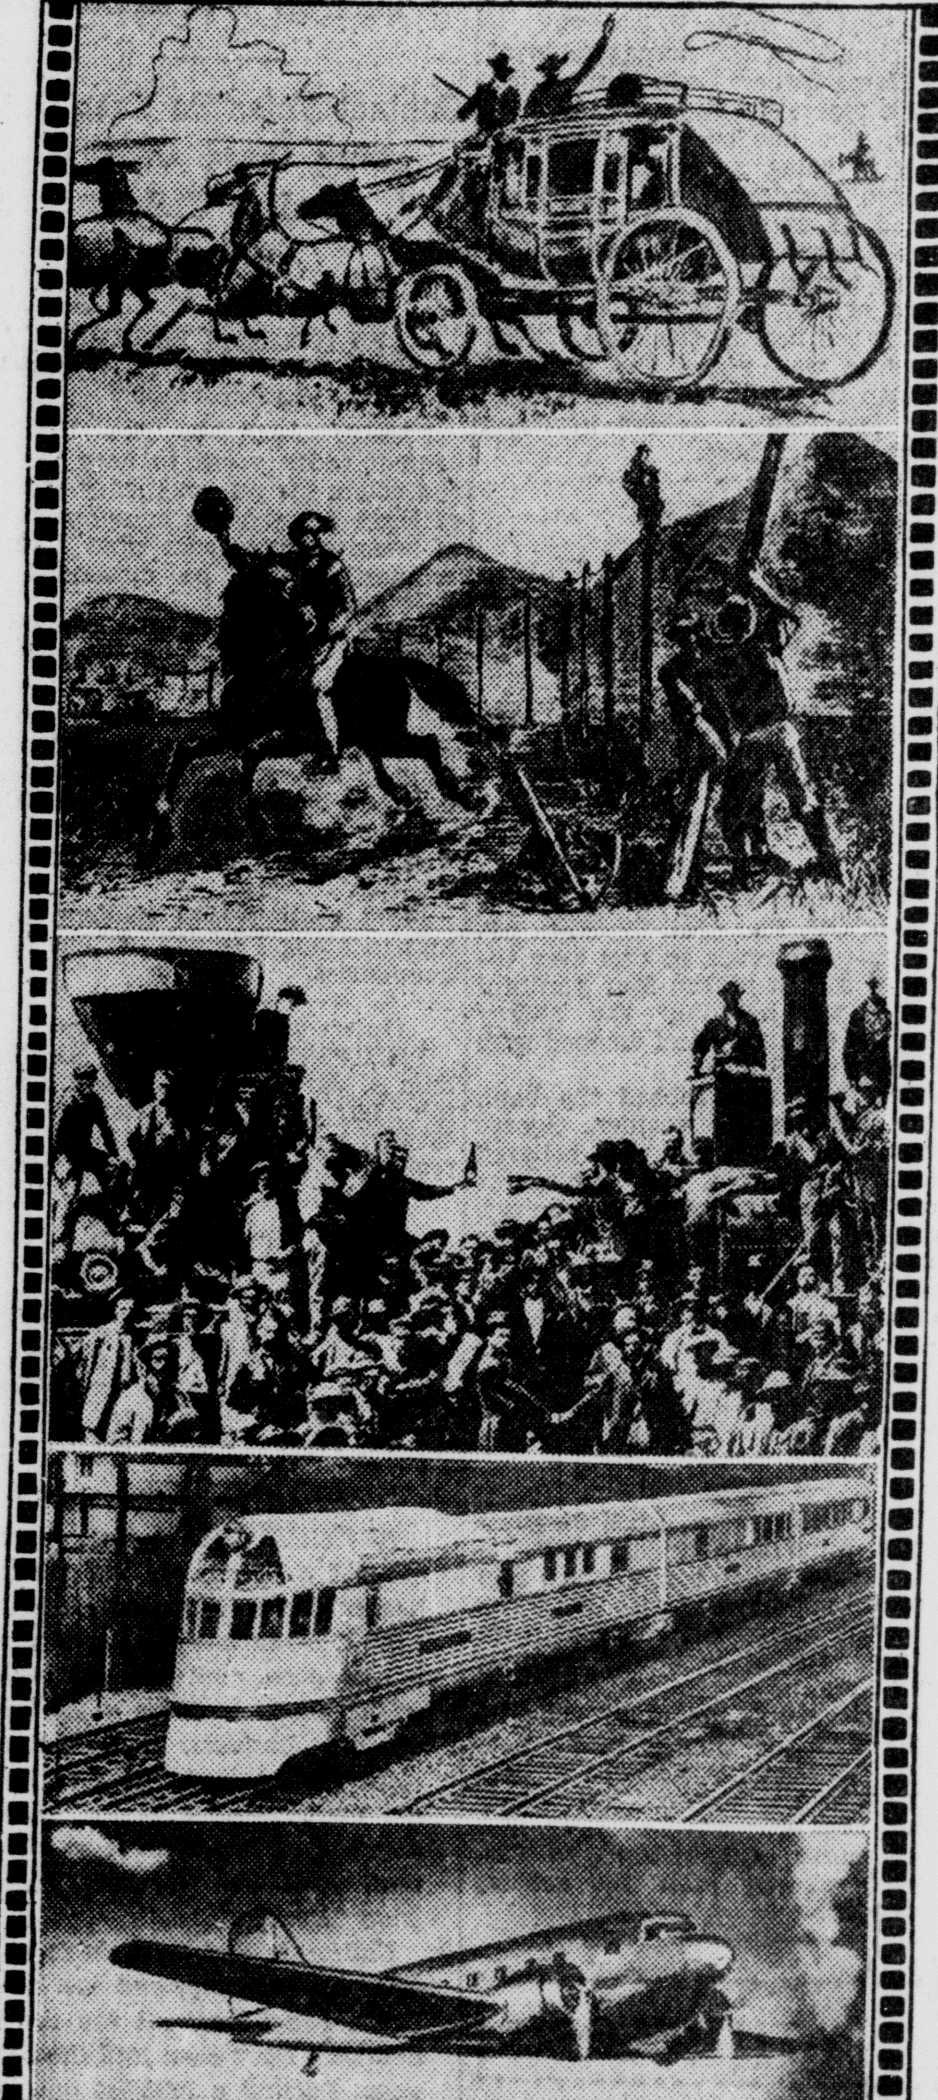

Long will not declare himself a candidate on a third party ticket until he is forced to abandon hope of winning the Democratic nomination.

SOUTHERN OULAW RAY HAMILTON IS CAUGHT AT DALLAS

night and Hamilton walked into the trap. Hamilton and the other prisoners were manacled and placed in automobiles which sped them here to the jail.

Borrow Lieutenant

Capture of the widely-hunted outlaw, former lieutenant of the late desperado Clyde Barrow, ended a wild career of bank robberies, shootings and kidnappings in which Hamilton narrowly eluded capture a dozen or more times in the several months he was at liberty.

His most recent escapade took Hamilton and several accomplices on a whirlwind tour of terror through southern Mississippi in which seven persons were kidnapped after he and four companions robbed the Prentiss, Miss., bank of $1,100.

The desperado, when hustled into the jail here last night, attempted a display of nonchalance that quickly faded when he was locked in a cell. He shook hands and joked feebly with a few officers and reporters in the jail corridor and then lapsed into sullen silence.

TAKE YOUR TEMPER IN HAND BEFORE YOUR TEMPER TAKES YOU

You are prone to attribute your outbursts of temper to your nerves. If you are in such a nervous state that you do foolish and serious things, you should realize that you must take better hold of yourself.

You must conquer your nervous impulses before it is too late. Very likely you don't want to expend your self-control. But frequent disturbances due to anger are harmful to the system.

Their physical effects are felt in nervous indigestion and in the thousand and one things that undermine health.

This is especially true in middle life and later.

It is not often that the quick-tempered person permits himself to go beyond bounds when he knows by so doing he is likely to sustain physical injury and pain.

If a quick tempered person can control himself once, he can do so again.

It is important to have the disposition to master this highly injurious state of mind and not let it get the upper hand.

It is cowardly to display temper toward those who cannot defend themselves, especially among women and children.

Begin today to get hold of your temper.

FATHERLY ADVICE
A highly successful business man, finding himself alone with his son one evening, decided to give him some fatherly advice.

"There are two things, son," the father said impressively, "that are vitally necessary if you are to succeed in business."

"What are they, dad?"
"Honesty and sagacity."

"How do you define honesty?"
"Always—no matter what happens or how adversely it may affect you—always keep your word once you have given it."

"And sagacity?"
"Never give your word."

IT REALLY HAPPENED
The Bostonian's slur on Chicago is as threadbare as that on the mother-in-law. But sometimes a case comes up which might be a little different. Here is one as told by the woman who entertained the Chicagoans mentioned in it: A woman in Boston had as her guests a spinster and her father from Chicago. Upon being asked what would give them the greatest pleasure to see, they agreed that an hour spent in the public library would be a treat to them. So the hostess took them to the Boston public library, where they walked around and saw the mural painting by Abbey and Sargent. But all the time the woman-guest asked impatiently: "When shall we see the bust of Parker?" At last reached the end of a corridor they came to the spot where, impressive on its marble pedestal, was the bust of the great American divine, Theodore Parker. And at once an ecstatic voice exclaimed—Look, father, Parker of Parker-House rolls!"

When fighting men became necessary and swords and knives had to be drawn by the right hand from the left side, the edge of the coat, buttoned from right to left, was found to be in the way, and so men began buttoning from the left. But women continue to follow the original way.

About 23,375,000 people are now on relief in this country—one person out of every five. This is an increase of 77 per cent over a year ago. We are on our way, comrades!

Small business concerns are doomed. They can't afford lawyers sick enough to dodge taxes.

One great evil in this country is that the taxpayers are kept in ignorance of the expenses of office holders. There would be a heluva ray if people knew the things they pay for and never hear of. There is plenty of publicity about things that are not good for the taxpayer. You notice every bank prints a statement every few months.

Clarence Darrow, the great criminal lawyer, of Chicago, tells this one: "You can tell who a dog's owner is by the characteristics of the dog. I went hunting once with three bird dogs, one a merchant's, one a banker's and one a farmer's dog. The merchant's dog got right down to business and sighted the bird each time so I could shoot. The banker's dog then ran ahead and devoured it. But the farmer's dog just sat back on its haunches and howled."

George On Monopolies.
Would Have Taxed Land Only.
Man Made Wrongs.

(This is the fourth and last column devoted to an analysis of the writings of Henry George, great American philosopher-economist, as applied to present-day problems.)

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th Street.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 6.—The weakness of the NRA lies in its creation and protection of monopolies. Its strength lies in certain elements of it that shorten the hours of labor and bar child labor.

Critics of NRA, however, assert that the monopolistic features are too dangerous to be assuaged by the benefits of the other features.

Critics of monopolies, and other problems of the day, are referring to Henry George, noted American economic writer of more than half a century ago.

And the writer of this column has been making a re-analysis of the Henry George works. They seem to touch the problems of today as clear-sightedly as the problems of the post-Civil war period.

GEORGE ON MONOPOLY
Henry George wrote this on monopoly in "Social Problems," 52 years ago:

"I am not denouncing the rich, nor seeking, by speaking of these things, to excite envy and hatred. But if we would get a clear understanding of social problems, we must recognize the fact that it is due to monopolies which we permit and create, to advantages which we give one man over another, to methods of extortion sanctioned by law and public opinion, that some men are enabled to get so enormously rich while others remain so miserably poor."

"If we look around us and note the elements of monopoly, extortion and spoliation which go to the building up of all, or nearly all, of the things we use, we see on the one hand how disingenuous are those who preach to us that there is nothing wrong in social relations and that the inequalities in the distribution of wealth spring from the inequalities of human nature."

"On the other hand, we see how wild are those who talk as though capital were a public enemy, and propose plans for arbitrarily restricting the acquisition of wealth. Capital is good; the capitalist is a helper, if he is not also a monopolist. We can safely let any one get as rich as he can if he will not despoil others in doing so."

MAN-MADE WRONGS
Henry George added:

"There are deep wrongs in the present constitution of society, but they are not wrongs inherent in the constitution of man nor in those social laws which are as truly the escape-artist. Jean Baptiste Rousseau, b. 1670, firebrand whose words ignited the French Revolution after he was dead. . . John Stuart Mill, b. 1773, English political economist. . . Lincoln Steffens, b. 1866, sociologist, publicist and author of one of the finest American biographies. . . Millard E. Tydings, b. 1893, senator from Maryland. . . Anthony H. G. Fokker, b. 1890, Dutch airplane builder. . . Lowell Thomas, b. 1892, author and radio commentator. . . Alexander W. (Continued On Page Six)

And if you desire to know why Henry George believed that would give every man a fair share of earnings, you are earnestly requested to read "Progress and Poverty."

We thank the reader who suggested that we re-read it.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1935 Central Press

SATURDAY, APRIL 6

Today's Yesterdays, April 6, 1199.—Richard Plantagenet, "Lion-Hearted" king of England, six years after his subjects paid a fortune as ransom for his release from captivity in Austria, was killed by an arrow in France during a dispute with a petty noble over a few hundred pounds.

April 6, 1348.—Laura de Noves, wife of Hugh de Sade, died at 44 at Avignon, leaving 11 children.

She was the Laura immortalized by the enduring sonnets of Francesco Petrarca. He tells us it was 6 a. m., April 6, 1327 when he first saw her and fell in love with her; and it was the same hour on the same date, 1348, that she died of plague.

April 6, 1830.—Joseph Smith, 23, son of Presbyterian parents, and six others gathered at the house of Peter Whitmer, in Fayette, N. Y., organized the first Mormon church to practise tenets given early expression by Smith.

At the same age, Smith's son, also named Joseph, instituted another new denomination!

April 6, 1866.—Dr. B. F. Stephenson, surgeon, and Rev. W. J. Rutledge, who had been an Army chaplain, formed the first Grand Army of the Republic post, in Springfield, Ill.

April 6, 1909.—The date upon which one-toed Robert E. Peary is credited with having discovered the North Pole.

It has never been proven that he did!

So far as geographers in general are concerned, no man has yet stood at the North Pole, and only Floyd Bennett, the flier, and Richard E. Byrd, his passenger, have reached it!

April 6, 1917.—The U. S. went to war.

You're wrong if you believe that its declaration of this date was against the Central Powers, as is often stated (in the World Almanac, for instance). The declaration was against Germany. The declaration against Austria-Hungary did not come until eight months later. War was not declared against Turkey or Bulgaria.

Notable Nativities.—William Rufus Wat. b. 1798. He was elected 13th Vice President of the U. S. and never served a day. He died before he was sworn in. Harry Houdini, b. 1874, American entertainer, often miscalled a Magician. He was an laws of the Creator as are the laws of the physical universe.

"There are wrongs resulting from bad adjustments which it is within our power to amend."

"The ideal social state is not that in which each man gets an equal amount of wealth, but in which each man gets in proportion to his contribution to the general stock. "And in such a social state there would not be less incentive to exertion than now; there would be far more incentive."

"GIVE THEM CAKE"
Henry George dramatized his argument in this manner:

"Why do they cry for bread?" asked the innocent French princess, as the roar of the fierce, hungry mob resounded through the courtyard of Versailles. "If they have no bread, why don't they eat cake?"

"Yet, not a fool above other fools was the pretty princess, who never in her whole life had known that cake was not to be had for the asking."

"Why are not the poor thrifty and virtuous and wise and temperate?" one hears in luxurious homes when such subjects are mentioned.

"What is this except the question of the French princess? Thrift and virtue and wisdom and temperance are not the fruits of poverty."

"The old idea that everything in the social world is ordered by the Divine Will—that it is the mysterious dispensations of Providence which give wealth to the few and order poverty as the lot of the many, make some rulers and others servants, is losing power. But another idea that serves the same purpose is taking its place. We are told, in the name of science, that the only social improvement which is possible is by a slow race-evolution, of which the struggle for existence is the impelling force."

"Lying beneath such a theory is the selfishness that would resist any inquiries into the titles to the wealth which greed has garnered, and the difficulty and indisposition on the part of comfortable classes of realizing the existence of any other world than seen through their own eyes."

HIS SOLUTION
Henry George had a solution which in this day is not considered by persons "on the left" as sufficient of a solution. This is the nub of the Henry George solution:

"To abolish all taxation except that upon land values."

Said Henry George:

"In every civilized country, even the newest, the value of the land taken as a whole is sufficient to bear the entire expense of government."

And if you desire to know why Henry George believed that would give every man a fair share of earnings, you are earnestly requested to read "Progress and Poverty."

We thank the reader who suggested that we re-read it.

Ellport Board Will Move Schools

Old Burnstown School Will Be Torn Down And Lumber Used In New Structure

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—When members of the Ellport boro school board convened in regular session last evening at the Bend schoolhouse, they definitely decided to move the one-room building near Burnstown to a new location near the Bend schoolhouse.

The old two-story Burnstown building will be torn down and a room will be built from the lumber to join the other one-roomed building. J. C. Syling, county superintendent, was present at the meeting and he will endeavor to have the plans approved by the state board within a few days.

Bids for moving the buildings and the foundation but the contract will not be given out at present because very little of the work can be done until the close of the present term of school.

The board has desired to make this change in the building for the past two years but all attempts to secure federal aid under the CWA, RWD, etc., were futile.

Other routine matters were transacted. The health officer, Hugh Rough reported that there is a very large number of cases of contagious diseases, including chicken pox, measles and whopping cough, in the boro.

Fine Lecture Is Given On Friday By Dr. Halley

"Isaiah" Is Topic Of Sermon; Services To Be Held This Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—Last evening a large crowd heard the lecture on "Isaiah." Dr. Halley prefaced this with some suggestions on reading the Bible. He thinks this should be done regularly, going through the book once a year. Not a campaign of reading but a steady habit is the thing required. Habits, not campaigns are the greatest need of the church today. He gave a general explanation of the plan of the Old Testament, especially the prophetic book. Learn the names of the books and a word about each book was his advice. The prophets were trying to shake the nation loose from idolatry and in event of failure to do this to warn them of the outcome. Their words have a modern ring about them. All were thrilled to listen to three rhapsodies from the pen of Isaiah the prophet. Dr. Halley called them the Rhapsody on the People of God, the Rhapsody on the City of God and a third rhapsody upon that most interesting of all subjects "Why is God?"

Nowhere else in scientific, philosophical or religious writings do we find the unfolding of the whole world's moral and religious history as we find them in the prophet Isaiah.

The choir under the direction of Rev. Bernie Osterhouse sang three beautiful numbers. Rev. J. E. Caughey was chairman of the meeting. On Sabbath evening Dr. Halley will recite the "Story of the Crucifixion the Holy of Holies of the Bible." The meetings will continue all next week.

Because of the great interest in the Halley Bible Recitals it has been decided to hold a meeting this evening (Saturday) at 7:45 in the United Presbyterian church. This is a union service of all the churches of the city which Dr. Halley has been conducting this past week. He will give a synopsis of one of the most important books of the Old Testament "Jeremiah." Dr. Halley has committed a large portion of this book and has been asked in many towns to repeat this lecture.

SUNDAY
Sunday's Yesterdays—Apr. 7, 1789—The first Presidential notification committee, consisting of Charles Thomson, left New York for Mt. Vernon to tell George Washington of his election as President on the previous day. This first notification committee was the last to carry any news.

It took him seven days to travel the 250 miles, which left Washington only 16 days to move to New York and prepare for his inauguration. There was no time for him to have a new and better-fitting pair of false teeth carved from wood, and he whistled as he delivered the inaugural address.

Apr. 7, 1789—Abdul Hamid I, sultan of Turkey died, leaving among his widows Aimee Dubuc de Rivery, childhood friend of Napoleon's Josephine and one of the most remarkable women in history. When she was eight or nine, a black soothsayer told her that on a sea voyage she would become a captive, and bear a son by a great ruler.

When she was 21, and returning home from school in France, her ship was seized by Algerian corsairs who carried off beautiful Aimee to their Dey. He sent her as a present to his overlord, the sultan in Constantinople.

April 7, 1907—Finland, later to become the only nation honest enough to pay its debts to the United States, became the first to admit women to its national legislature. Nineteen were elected to the Diet.
